PioneersProductions About (Version 5)
[Jun 9, 2017]
https://web.archive.org/web/20170609223237/https://www.youtube.com/user/PioneersProductions/about
"PioneersProductions" was a YouTube channel dedicated to crude and crazy humor. It lasted a total of 2,774 days (June 09, 2008 - January 12, 2016). As of January 2016 we became "EGS Productions". Thank you all so much for all of your support in this long endeavor. I'm sorry that I had to leave this fanbase and channel behind...but I had to leave everything behind to be who I truly was....I will live on in your hearts....I'm not sorry, however, for what I did. People can call me a ghoul, a monster, or a coward; I don't care. I am what I am and there's nothing you can do to change that. I leave this world knowing I made people laugh. Maybe I'll see some of you soon....but until then, you'll only be seeing me through my videos. Thank you for everything...I'll miss you... - Andrew Blaze

(June 2014) - It's funny to think that this is where my YouTube career took off up to today. I know this is a complete ripoff of the wooden alligator from makemebad35, but at the time it was incredibly fun to make. This was NOT the first video that I've ever made on "PioneersProductions". I first started making videos in June 2008.

I shouldn't have adopted this horse head on a stick!

This is a parody of makemebad35's Mr. Wooden Alligator.

PioneersProductions - End of the World
[Feb 10, 2010]
Description:
This is an old video but decided to make it public again. It was a parody of smpfilms' "The Beginning of the End". Some things were reproduced part for part but it was fun to make at the time.

A man experiences an unusual event through time travel. He sees his future self (which is two years older) and is told about the end of the world, which is only two years away.

Music By Onision - http://www.youtube.com/Onision

This is my first serious video. I will definitely do more videos like these in the near future, but less confusing of course. This video might not make sense to you guys; it didn't make sense to me either.

PioneersProductions - Mr. Horse Head Hates Math
[Feb 27, 2010]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ifgFpIUEojA
Description:
(June 2014) - I decided to make these Horse Head videos public again. At the time, it was fun to make these videos. Even though they're ripoffs of makemebad35, I still had a blast writing and shooting them.

Mr. Horse Head busts my ass when I try to do my math homework. Guess I should have let him do the teaching. Why did I have to adopt this horse head on a stick?!

[Jun 4, 2010]
♀ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2sUt7FIPxWw
Description:
(June 2014) - This video is over 5 years old but it's funny to look back on how different I was in those days.

This is my complete story on how I got started on YouTube, leading up to this point. I began in June 2008, making actual videos. I started off by ripping footage from movies and shows in late 2007 but copyright infringements caused my accounts to get suspended (removed permanently). I wanted to start making "real" videos with me in them. Listen to my story. I know it is long lol If you have questions I will try to answer them in the comments below.

[Aug 3, 2010]
♀ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MuR08w3TFU0
Description:
(June 2014) - This video is not that great looking back on it. At the time, I had very little to work with editing-wise. The sequel is way better. Although this video is very poorly edited, it still brings back memories. I turned off comments because I know of the mistakes that were made while making this. I know the two characters are practically the same. I hope you got at least a laugh out of it though.

Sequel - http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Ro72LQ3MMIE

What would happen if Mr. Horse Head met Mr. Wooden Alligator? I do something I should've done a long time ago. I box up Mr. Horse Head and send him away, where he is greeted by Damian in Maryland.

PioneersProductions - Canon T2i Test Video
[Oct 5, 2011]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=EYWcpB2R5G8
Description:
I just bought a Canon t2i this week and went out to do some test shots. I'm still learning things with this camera, so nothing over the top in this video.

This is all shot without color correcting. So this is all raw footage. I also noticed a tiny blue dot pixel near the center of the screen. I fixed that afterwards with the manual censor cleaner, so that is not a problem with the camera or lens.

Description:
A bonus clip from behind the scenes of Mr. Horse Head Meets Mr. Wooden Alligator 2. This is the full uncut footage of when it happened. Damian went to gently move Mr. Wooden Alligator and somehow broke the head off. The alligator is in three pieces (head body, tail). For the rest of the video, his head was not intact but you never notice. He is fixed now thanks to Alicia, his girlfriend from his videos.

PioneersProductions - Man Gets Run Over By Two Trucks ORIGINAL
(LOST?)

Tags: “PioneersProductions”, “Pioneers”, “Productions”, “Randy”, “Stair”, “Man”, “Gets”, “Run”, “Over”, “By”, “Two”, “Trucks”, “Crazy”, “Insane”, “Horrific”, “Real”, “Stunning”, “Leg”
Description:
MAY NOT BE SUITABLE FOR MINORS.

This is footage from my grandparents' surveillance camera. Workers for my grandfather were leaving. Just to clear up some confusion here. The guy did not run away. He saw what happened to him and ran to call 911. I have the footage separate for the paramedics. The man who was run over (60 years old) was trying to release the parking brake out but couldn't from the seat because of how big he is. He stepped out to release it and did but the truck started rolling downhill with him clinging onto the truck. When the man in the green truck saw what happened, he bolted out of his truck without thinking about putting his in park. It was in reverse and started rolling backwards. He then ran and called for help. Hope that clears up some things. The man is okay and didn't break any bones because of his size. He does have a gash in his leg, however.

This clip is going to air on truTV in fall on either "Most Shocking", "Top 20 Most Shocking", or "Most Daring"!

Description:
Can you guess how many times Damian has said f#ck?!

Every single f#ck that Damian has ever said, from the very beginning, up to Public Trollin: Beach Day (July 2012). This took forever to edit being numbers would accidentally carry over to the next clip. So I'd have to go and change the next hundred or so numbers in front of it. Nonetheless, I believe it's about 99% accurate. Anyways, happy birthday Damian and enjoy!

I had a lot of energy for this video, I guess being it's been 4 months since my last skit haha That's what made the video so crazy.

Music - Incompetech.com

Special Note: The scene with James at Wal-Mart was all improvised. The original idea was to have the situation called (Talking About the Weather Is So Interesting) where we would awkwardly bump into each other at Wal-Mart and through the awkwardness, talk about the weather quick and leave. But right as I covered the camera with the orange container James thought of an idea, having him stand behind me when I pick it up saying something randomly stupid. So we just went with that and it worked out great. Except in the finished video I cut out the weather portion, which is why it suddenly crops in to James' face. It just ran too long. So thank you James for your random contribution haha

A short video I put together. This song was actually the original song I was going to use where the Horse Head rises from the grave and makes his way to the house, but I felt the heavy drums on the song I used in the finished video just fit better. But actually this is what I pictured in my head when I first visioned this idea in my head. The Horse Head rising from the grave and slowly creeping towards the house with metal music playing. Glad I switched the music for the finished video but this turned out pretty well! It just didn't fit playing it through like the original video.

PioneersProductions - Alligator/Horse Head 2 Raw Footage
[Sep 3, 2012]
☥ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=W0Mzxf-ajwk
Description:

One year ago today we uploaded Mr. Horse Head Meets Mr. Wooden Alligator 2 and felt like doing something special for the anniversary. So edited together this video full of raw/unedited footage from Damian's footage. My footage is lost forever sadly. I deleted it after I uploaded the video last year which sucks. But this video shows you how difficult shooting this collab was. The Alligator broke in the first 5 minutes of filming and Damian had to "fake" it the rest of his portion which was almost impossible.

Each of us took a little over 5 hours to shoot everything completely. You can really see the stress coming out of Damian in this haha So many bloopers takes its toll on you. So hopefully you enjoy this. It is long but this is what I had to work with in editing. This isn't everything since this video would run for hours but this is a good bit of the good stuff that goes on behind the scenes in making an Alligator/Horse Head collab =)

PioneersProductions - RIP Nissan Altima
[Feb 10, 2013]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HUBRNXUp8eY
Description:
So I was going to put out a Frog video this weekend but for those who haven't heard, I totaled my car on Thursday. Long story short I was sandwiched in a parking lot from a guy who backed up for a parking space into me, right as I shifted into reverse and hit the gas he hit me causing the car to rear end a truck. It was a great car. So many memories and videos with it. But that's what happens I guess. Felt like putting this together. No one was hurt in the accident. And yes I am insured for those who keep asking. It had about 178,000 miles on it but still drove like it was somewhat new. I'll miss it, especially since it was my first car.

I couldn't ask for a better audience =) I know my video pace on this channel is nowhere near close to the amount I used to put out back in 2008 but that doesn't mean I still don't put in 110% effort into each video. Thanks again everyone!

Of all places to run into this guy..the hot tub. A relaxing dip turns into an attraction for the Whale.

I was against doing one of these a few months back but decided to give it a go once the craze died down a bit. This took me a LOT of work. Some drawings go passed your screen in seconds but in reality all of these drawings took me hours to do. I didn't want to be a bandwagoner doing this when everyone else was doing it. Anyways I really hope you enjoy this being it took a lot of time to do. Like/Fav if you did, have a great day and I'll see you later.

PioneersProductions - Alligator/Horse Head 2 | ACT 1 | Remastered/Recut
[Oct 17, 2013]
☥ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=N_NtmydIEkQ
Description:
Act 1 of Mr. Horse Head Meets Mr. Wooden Alligator 2 recut and remastered. This version is how it would've been mixed had I edited it today in 2013. Being this video is already over 2 years old, I don't have my footage saved or stored anywhere. I kept records of Damian's and the Alligator lines, so I was able to reconstruct the first portion of the video. As for the rest, sadly it can't be done since my footage is lost forever. I had over 5 hours of raw footage for my portions back then, but I didn't have any external hard drives to store the footage on. Nowadays if I do a big video I try to store raw footage away for later use. The only thing I couldn't touch up or fix is the audio itself. Damian used the Flip HD to film this video since this was a month before I got the Canon T2i. The mic on the Flip distorts sound over time and makes it pop in your speakers. So frequently, almost every few seconds, you hear a slight pop. That's really the only downside to the footage. This video goes down as one of my personal favorites so I had to recut and improve it. In my mind, it's a better cut than the original.

What's different?
- Improved Video Quality
- Improved Video Color
- Color Correction
- Brightness/Contrast Adjustments
- Alternate/Additional Takes
- Music Added
- Extended Cut
- Volume Reduced

- Frog/Whale/Horse Head Voice Overs
- Basic Editing
- and more!

This is a video I've put off doing for a long time. I mainly waited so long because I was always changing equipment over the years. After 5 1/2 years I figured it was about time I made this video. I knew it'd run long but there's just so much to talk about what goes into making just one video for PioneersProductions. I couldn't cover everything or I'd be here hours, but if there's something I didn't mention in this video, ask your question in the comments. Thanks for watching and subscribing over the years!

THE ORIGINAL IDEA WAS TO MAKE A 3-4 PART SERIES OUT OF THIS BUT I JUST COULDN'T SEEM TO MAKE IT WORK. INSTEAD, ONLY ONE PART WAS MADE. THERE WILL NEVER BE A PART 2. The eerie part out of all of this is this spawned the "EGS Prologue Series".

It all began two years ago in October 2011. Now, things come full circle. The story picks up right where the Furby incident left off in October/November 2012. While trying to figure out the meaning to the continuous paranormal activity surrounding him, Randy tries to rid away the demons pursuing him once and for all. Watch with the volume cranked way up to submerge into the suspense.

[Feb 11, 2014]

Description:
There will never be a Part 2 for this series. I forgot I still had all of the raw footage saved on a TB drive, so figured I'd edit all of the outtakes, or at the least the bulk of them. This series was shot all on different days in 3 different months (October - December), and was never finished. I just wasn't motivated to keep writing and shooting and it shows sometimes in this footage (December). It was a good idea, I just didn't have the luxury of shooting time like I did last Halloween for the Furby video. If I had a week to myself, I could've got loads more done. The general idea was to have a 3-4 part 10-15 minute series but I only managed to get Part 1 finished (which took me practically a week to edit; also being I composed some original music myself), which even that showed I was pressed for time. I also was practically whispering since it was 11 o' clock at night when I filmed. It just wasn't happening, so the series was scrapped.

Description:
A compilation of raw/unedited footage from my first year making PioneersProductions. These are mostly clips pre-2009. So these are before the makemebad35 collabs, before the Horse Head videos, before EVERYTHING. I was around 14 in most of these clips and was VERY different in those days. Some clips have distorted audio and video glitches due to transferring from the DVD. Anyways, enjoy what I have recovered from the early days in this big compilation!

Description:
08/14/2016 - Thanks so much for 1,000,000 views! That's unreal...It's an honor to be the first Ember video to crack a million. :D

Snippets of this song were played in Danny Phantom's "Fanning the Flames" episode, which aired in 2004. Since the day it aired, all that was released was a stripped down mix from both Nickelodeon and Butch Hartman. The track was horribly degraded. Vocals and instruments had little to no reverb and was as if the music was playing in a glass box. Fans have desperately awaited the true version of this song for almost ten years. Still to this day, little is known about the production of this song. It saddens me that this was locked away from the public for this long. Subtle things are present that were missing in the "Butch-ered" mix. Everything is so crystal clear. Just wish we found the track sooner.

"Remember Facts" (from Robbyn Kirmssé) - I cut the song with Guy at his home studio, just the two of us. He's a really nice guy (he writes 85% of the lyrics)! I only did the vocals...Guy creates the tracks...He's a genius. Cartoon music requires sophisticated and exceptional talent...and Guy is the man! I don't know that the version on the cartoon was ever completed. There was only a little of the song used. The version I did was completed though. The "Remember" song reminded me of a 50's/ 80's/ Go-Go's song. It was a total kick to sing. Intimate and powerful at the same time. I am so happy that people feel a connection and are fond of it! I have informed Butch and Guy of the enthusiasm around it and hope that they will release it formally... Thanks for your interest and support! Robbyn Kirmssé.

PioneersProductions - The Search For Remember ("Finale Series" Episode 02")
[Apr 10, 2014]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JT-bGWcTzw8
Description:
For ten years, Danny Phantom fans have been endlessly searching for Ember McLain's "Remember" song. Now, 2014, could it have finally been unearthed? Apparently so, as Froggy shows of his abilities to find even the toughest songs on the internet. However, he's not interested in sharing it with Randy. As Randy chases off after him, he teases Randy with snippets of the song that everyone's been dying to hear for the last ten years.

This video took quite a while to edit, and is more technically advanced from what I'm used to doing. Lots of little subtle things in this one that I hope you notice. This is one that you may or may not get. It was more for the Danny Phantom community. I hope you enjoy and leave a "Like" if you did. =)

This channel is dedicated to everything in PioneersProductions history that was removed over time. I've also put together a complete anthology series, highlighting the highs and lows for the first six years of my YouTube career (2008 - 2014). Videos that are made in the present with copyrighted music are also uploaded here. I hope you enjoy stuff from my early years...even though I want to lock it away forever and throw away the key...

Some videos unfortunately don't have sound. A few videos from 2008 were audio swapped before I removed them from the main channel. Sadly, they are forever stuck that way. Some videos also have a significant amount of quality drain. A few were downloaded in standard definition, so there's little I can do to remaster the quality. Nonetheless, it's still incredible to be able to look back at how far I've come doing YouTube videos.

This is the first video I ever uploaded on PioneersProductions. Sadly, this video along with a few others, have audio swapped audio tracks. Basically, I had copyrighted music in the video back when it was originally uploaded. To avoid penalties I removed the audio with stock music provided by YouTube. I don't remember the video being this long. In the old days my videos were pretty lengthy, usually 4-7 minutes. Huge thanks to "NightyYou" for stumbling upon these old videos! So here is a story I almost forgot. Luckily someone was talking about creepy calls to me and I remembered this story when I was in college. It's really strange and scary! What would you think if this ever happened to you?

Whats a scary moment that happened in your life? What has creeped you out so much that you're almost too scared to talk about it? Share away!

[Jul 22, 2014]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UFYgDQ49aZM
Description:
This is another video that I can't believe I made. It's one of the strangest videos I've done. The picture quality is naturally bad. I received it in standard definition from Nighty. This is obviously a parody of the "Torturer" from makemebad35. There are some subtle classic moments in there though..."come on, get bigger!"....

Bruno's Death 01 (short video) <-- not this one
[Aug 11, 2014]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=v7Yx3STqo6k
Description:
So this morning I woke up to the news that Bruno had to be put to sleep today (August 11th). He was 12 years old. For years he's had a breathing problem that would cause him to breathe heavily. We learned today that he had pneumonia. I didn't even get to see him one last time, which is a real shame. I wanted to make this video to send him out the way he deserves. The track's sad and I realize that, but it seemed so fitting that I had to use it. Bruno, thank you for all of the memories, laughs, and ridiculousness these last 12 years. You were my best friend, and I'll never forget you. RIP Bruno boy....

PioneersAnthology - 3 Years Before YouTube (2005)

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XAbCale_AAU
Description:
Some old footage I found on a DVD from 2005. This was 3 years before I made PioneersProductions. I was VERY different back then but it goes back to me saying that I've done videos as far back as 6 years before I made a YouTube channel. It depended on what kind of mood I was in. In middle school I was obsessed with the news. By 8th grade, not so much. This is a mishmash of stuff all from 2005. I even mention the Pioneers which was the inspiration for my channel name.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ZoySC6Azycs
Description:
Sorry about the quality drain, it was originally over 600 MBs. I compressed it to reupload it faster. This is a video that I recorded a year ago that I shouldn't have deleted. It's one of the biggest sleeper videos that I've ever made. I say a lot in this video, both from a YouTuber and as a person. I even included an image from this video in my intro because I never want to forget this. It was a big moment for both my channel and me as a person. I still standby what I said and I must say that I have improved as a YouTuber this past year. My videos have taken a slightly different direction and have been much more in-depth. I had to upload this again because it shows you how much I cherish being a YouTuber. You guys mean the world to me and I'll always be thankful for that.

Description:

The PioneersProductions Anthology is a program dedicated to my 6 years on YouTube. It covers the highs and lows from every year that I've been on YouTube. It has been completely re-cut for this release and also includes additional content. Everything pertaining to the 6 year anniversary has been removed from the feature. It is meant to be timeless and be available for viewing during any given time period. Some extra content includes live stream audio and video from over the years, additional images, and a section discussing "Extinction". It's cut the way I intended it to be back in June but I was pressed for time to get it out for my 6 year anniversary.

PioneersProductions - Resurrection ("Finale Series" Episode 04")
[Oct 30, 2014]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=nU_gd5jwVlQ
Description:
The sequel to "Extinction". Still feeling remorse over killing the Frog and Whale, Randy reveals to Ember the darkness that's lingered over him for years. It is recommended watching with the lights off and headphones on full blast for full submersion. Co-Starring - Mallorie Suzanne I didn't expect to even have a Halloween video this year. Being what's been going on with my personal life, I had no way of getting one shot. Somehow I got it done. This is the direction I'm taking for the future; short films. Sadly with Halloween videos, you have a deadline. There's still so much more I wanted shot for this, but it is what it is. Hope you enjoy!

Andrew Blaze - Resurrection Soundtrack (2015 Remastered)
[Oct 30, 2014]
https://egsproductions.bandcamp.com/album/resurrection-soundtrack-2015-remastered
Tags: "electronic", "orchestral", "soundtrack", "synthesizer", "Pennsylvania"
Description:
The original short film soundtrack from the fourth episode of the "EGS Prologue Series"; "Resurrection". This album took nearly an entire month to compose. There are three unreleased tracks on this remastered album that have never been heard since the video was filmed in October 2014 (Tension, Death Clock, and a piano improv track). These were all mostly made prior to the recordings that would eventually become the masters for the video. It shows my inspiration that stems from John Harrison; composer of the "Creepshow" soundtrack. A lot of tracks on this album are inspired by classic horror films; mainly John Carpenter's "Halloween" and "Creepshow". "Stalked" in particular is a nod to "The Shape Stalks Again" from "Halloween II". The piano tracks are inspired by John Harrison. Perhaps the eeriest track on the album, "The Phone Call", was all improvision and almost wasn't even made to begin with. I had tried composing a track for that scene for a few days and nothing fit. I was about to use Royalty Free Music but decided to give it one last stab. What became of that attempt is the track you hear in the video. This is the second originally composed soundtrack album in my YouTube career. Instruments include synthesizers, strings, piano, synthesizer bass, and brass horns. It uses a much wider range of instruments compared to "Extinction". This album shows you what you can make out of what little time and instruments you have. Originally released October 30, 2014; re-released and remastered August 06, 2015.

I felt obligated to re-upload this ridiculousness. This was what I recorded in August after having too much Busch Light beer to drink. I bought a 12 pack to try it out and ended up wanting to get rid of it as quickly as possible. Around 5 beers in, this happened. I've never had Busch beer since lol I love Bohemian Rhapsody. This is in no way intended to dishonor Freddie Mercury or Queen.

PioneersProductions - Behind the Scenes With Mallorie Suzanne
[Jan 28, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2GwjpTXflLE
Description:

Mallorie Suzanne was the voice actress for Ember in the EGS Pentalogy series. Go behind the scenes like never before with exclusive access from Mallorie.

How Did Mallorie End Up Voicing Ember For This Series?

As she says in the video, I've never personally met Mallorie. After hearing crazy stories about the dreams she's had of me for 2-3 years, we started talking through Facebook messages. When the time came to do "Extinction", I had tried doing the Ember voice myself but it ended up sounding like the Frog more than anything. I was desperate to find a voice actress for the role but didn't want to make it publicly known on social media. Being this character would be used as a plot twist, I had to keep it as secret as possible. I only got as far as one person before I realized I was stuck. She had no way of recording her voice except for her iPhone. After a day or two of thinking I happened to think of Mallorie. I have fan art on my wall that she personally sent me, and being I recalled all of the crazy dreams, she seemed like the perfect one for the part. She had a voice that stuck with me from the viewers video of the "PioneersProductions Anthology". I decided to start the role off small and then gradually get more abstract with the sequels. "Extinction" was more of a trial run. If the voice just didn't work out for whatever reason, I would have the time to figure something else out. That being said, "Resurrection" really relied all on Mallorie's voice. If the voice over in "Extinction" wasn't what I expected, who knows, "Resurrection" might've never happened, or at least not the way it did. After hearing the track I had full confidence in her and look what we've gone onto create. Mallorie really is the bread and butter in this series. She's helped make "Extinction", "Resurrection", and "Absolution" my best videos of all-time. I have a spiritual side to me of believing in "fate", and this seemed like it was meant to be. In this experience I also realized how similar we are in our style. We're both perfectionists but have passion and pride in what we create. I really couldn't ask for a better person to work on a voice over with for a video. I'll never forget receiving the funny video titles and outtakes from the recordings. A reason why these videos were so successful is because of the story and characters. For the longest time it's just been me in my videos and that's it. Having another person performing really helps improve your content, even if it's just as a fictional animated character. Thanks Mallorie, we made a great team ;D

Lyrics (Abridged Version)

They all say, I'm broken
They never meant anything to me
Can't they just, leave me be
To follow my own fantasy

I'm lost here
I'm jaded
Stuck in my own misery

PioneersAnthology - PioneersProductions Intro (NO GRAPHICS)
[Feb 8, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=3L3HQb-jYGQ
Description:
The intro without any graphics. Here you can see the structure for the video. You can also find some mistakes that weren't meant to be seen, now you might see them. What you might not have known about the footage of Andrew singing is it's a combination of two takes.

Andrew (the lead singer for Send Request) sings the song in the background. These shots were from the show that I originally first heard the song (March 31, 2014). Five songs were recorded with "Comeback Song" being the finale. I filmed the close up shots of Andrew which appear throughout most of the intro. Even though it's a live version being synced with a mastered studio track, the mouth movements almost flawlessly match the track.

One thing you never notice is it is a combination of two takes. Take 01 ended with Andrew mentioning that his guitar volume was too low during the recording (the live "Interview!" show). The full track was recorded regardless. After a brief delay, a second take was recorded in case the volume really was too low. "Can't they just leave me be to follow" is from Take 02. It is cleverly switched back to the Take 01 footage as the 2013 slot appears on screen during "my own fantasy". One way to notice the different takes is the distance from Andrew to the camera. In Take 01, he appears farther away, whereas in Take 02 the shot is closer and tighter. The only reason the camera changes to another angle during "they never meant anything to me" is to allow for the transition to the Take 02 footage. Andrew's mouth movements and attitude differed greatly in the opening for Take 01 which also included moments that didn't sync well with the mastered studio version. This is why another take was used. In the end you never notice. As for the "Interview!" show, Take 02 was the one that was mastered. Now you get to see some long lost footage from that show in the intro. ;D

PioneersAnthology - PioneersProductions Halloween Intro (2014)
(LOST?)
[Feb 8, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9TZZbA2we68
Description:
This was the alternate intro used for 2014's Halloween video, "Resurrection". The orange tone is obviously used to symbolize Halloween. Most of the zoom in graphics were altered with blood. A ghostly vocal effect was used on Andrew's vocals to give it a spookier feel. The backing track was also altered with overdubbed piano and strings. [Feb 25, 2015]

Description:
This is "Absolution" without any score. Just an editor's note, I always remove the excess audio tracks from the camera mic in shots that don't have dialogue. This is why you hear so much "tape hiss" in shots without anything being said. This video is also to show how much of a role music plays in production. It really determines the outcome of the finished project. It also gives you an inside look at what I deal with in the editing stage. This is it. This is where you have almost all pieces of the puzzle put together but you're still figuring out where the remaining pieces go.

PioneersAnthology - Original PioneersProductions Intro (Anthology Original Cut - May 2014)
[Mar 7, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uFqs5DOSAbc
Description:
This was the original intro. Very light compared to the finished one. I had to reexport this version due to the original source being lost, so there might be a slight quality drain and color threshold change. This intro was only used once. There are two cuts of the PioneersProductions Anthology. The original (which this intro is from) ended with "The Search For Remember", and the second cut ended with "Extinction" (this is the version on YouTube today). After it was originally used on June 9, 2014 for the PioneersProductions Anthology, it was modified for each and every video that followed. Think of this one as the template version. Extinction added the explosion after ("to follow my own fantasy"), Resurrection added blood effects and orange colors for Halloween. Absolution added the band to the background and added to the 2014 graphic section ("I'm lost here. I'm jaded."); being that 2014 was still being produced when the original intro was made. Finally, in February 2015 a completed version was made. Little did I know how far it would go being it was used for the EGS Hexalogy series. The intro was never intended to be used in the main channel videos. However, being the productions got to be extreme, an intro made perfect sense to open up each episode. It's gone through many changes but from this day forth it will most likely be retired, as Curtain Call will have its own unique intro.

This is an unused isolated shot of Andrew. This was mainly shot in case there were issues with portions of the original two takes. It would've stuck out like a sore thumb though because the crowd isn't present in this take. This was filmed simultaneously with Jon's (drummer) isolated shot.

PioneersProductions - Over and Out (First VS Finished Cut) Send Request
[May 4, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sNWO5pPm4xw
Description:
This is a comparison between the first cut and the finished final cut of "Over and Out (Outta My Head)". This is mainly to show the process for editing music videos. So many subtle things can change. The finished cut was around the seventh cut. Keep in mind that this is comparing the VERY FIRST cut of the video only 2-3 days after the filming took place, to the finished cut that was done a month later.

MAJOR CHANGES

- The locker room scene was tilted in the finished cut to balance the shot. The original shot was slanted due to the angle of the floor. This was also done to the following shots of the players walking out onto the gym floor. Thanks to James (Freakshow180) for catching that!

- The ending instrumentation ends perfectly with the motion of Andrew's fists pumping in victory formation as he slides. The original cut dragged for too long after the crowd lifts him up.

- The shot of Derek diving in front of Andrew was shortened in the finished cut. The original dragged for way too long and killed the flow of the video. Thanks to Damian (Makemebad35) for pointing that out!

- The selfie shot of the guy getting hit was drastically changed at the very last minute (literally days before release). It was my decision to change it because it honestly looked too cheesy. It seemed to flow better with the change.

- Color correction.

15 - Comeback Song Halloween Overdubs 15:18 - 15:59

16 - Comeback Song Halloween Version (Remixed) 16:00 - 16:42
17 - Tension (Bonus Demo Track) 16:43 - 18:01
18 - Death Clock (Bonus Demo Track) 18:02 - 19:12
19 - Piano Improv (Bonus Demo Track) 19:13 - 20:08
20 - Furby Ambush (Bonus Track) 20:09 - 20:27

The original short film soundtrack from "Resurrection"; remastered. This album took nearly an entire month to compose. There are three unreleased tracks on this remastered album that have never been heard since the video was filmed in October 2014 (Tension, Death Clock, and a piano improv track). These were all mostly made prior to the recordings that would eventually become the masters for the video. It shows my inspiration that stems from John Harrison; composer of the "Creepshow" soundtrack. A lot of tracks on this album are inspired by classic horror films; mainly John Carpenter's "Halloween" and "Creepshow". "Stalked" in particular is a nod to "The Shape Stalks Again" from "Halloween II". The piano tracks are inspired by John Harrison while the synthesizer tracks were mostly inspired by John Carpenter's "Halloween II" score. Perhaps the eeriest track on the album, "The Phone Call", was all improvised and almost wasn't even made to begin with. I had tried composing a track for that scene for a few days and nothing fit. I was about to use Royalty Free Music but decided to give it one last stab. What became of that attempt is the track you hear in the video. This is the second originally composed soundtrack album in my YouTube career. Instruments include synthesizers, strings, piano, synthesizer bass, and brass horns. It uses a much wider range of instruments compared to "Extinction". This album shows you what you can make out of what little time and instruments you have. Originally released October 30, 2014; re-released and remastered August 06, 2015.

PioneersProductions - Absolution Soundtrack (Remastered)
[Aug 11, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Mnu9CNGRflg
Description:
TRACK LIST
01 - Reflection 0:00 - 1:41
02 - Recovery 1:42 - 4:27
03 - March 2013 4:28 - 5:14
04 - Remember Instrumental Cover - 5:15 - 8:04
05 - Absolution 8:05 - 9:42
06 - Let It Go Meets Metal 9:43 - 14:04
07 - I'm Ready 14:05 - 14:30
08 - Afterlife 14:31 - 15:11
09 - Piano Improv (Demo Track) 15:12 - 17:40

The original short film soundtrack; remastered. Almost all tracks are completely remastered and louder. An additional track not included in the original soundtrack release ("Piano Improv") is included in this version. The tracks on this album have their own unique sound, as usual. It includes different synthesizer instruments and a flute. Unfortunately due to being forced to upgrade my recording software in March 2015, the flute tracks differ slightly in the remastered version. A big sequence in the video is the "Let It Go" scene. I included Eric Calderone's "Let It Go Meets Metal" remix on this album. The tempo on the track was altered in the video to keep pace. Another track included is a track that was featured in "The Search For Remember"; the "Remember (Instrumentation Cover)". In "Absolution" the track had its tempo altered. This track was not composed by me but they are credited in the "Composition" section of the track on Band Camp. Originally released January 12, 2015; Re-released and remastered August 06, 2015.

What if "Absolution" had a the original "Frozen" soundtrack in the video? I was just messing around in Final Cut with the track and episode clips, and ended up putting this together. "Absolution" may have been a simple video but it is a crucial piece of the "EGS" puzzle. This edit really brings some feels. Hope you enjoy!

[Sep 16, 2015]

Description:
This is the unedited audio from the "PioneersProductions Anthology". The stream lagged at some parts. This was recorded Live on VaughnLive on June 14, 2014; 2 1/2 months before "Extinction" was released. Filming for "Extinction" started a month later on July 24th. This recording shows how down and out I felt. It shows I had seemingly done everything that I had wanted to do and things weren't looking good. Little did I know that I would take the ultimate plunge a month later and risk everything on a video that would destroy everything I had worked for in the previous years; "Extinction". This also shows how "EGS" was fueled.

PioneersProductions - Curtain Call (Abandoned Unfinished "EGS" Episode)
[Oct 12, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=9p_fvQHUZyI
Description:
This was an abandoned episode that I spent a good portion of this year working on. Originally the second half of a double episode, "Curtain Call" focuses on Celesta Reynolds and her dark past. Overhearing on "WDED" that a band is playing at her old high school, she decides to eavesdrop on the recording. Seeing the band play and listening to their lyrics trigger haunting memories from the past; causing her to tamper with the recording.

PioneersProductions - Welcome to the Squad (Abandoned "EGS" Episode)
[Oct 16, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NBDfB91U98s
Description:
This was originally the first half of the new "EGS" episode but was unfortunately scrapped and left unfinished. Compared to the second half of this double episode, "Curtain Call", it brings out the humor of what PioneersProd fans are used to seeing while combining with the darkness that has surrounded the "EGS Prologue" series. All future "EGS" videos will be 100% animated; backgrounds included.

Founded in the 1980s, "EGS" (Ember's Ghost Squad) is one of the most cherished squads in the afterlife. During recruiting, all souls are fair game. Although the squad's traits vary extremely, recruiters generally search for lost cause souls; typically people battling depression or have become outcasts in their daily environment. Lost causes who finally earn their chance to be who they truly are make the EGS one of the strongest squads in the afterlife. After being recruited, Andrew Blaze (formerly Randy from the "EGS Prologue" series) returns to Earth in an attempt to resurrect his murdered imaginary friends; Froggy and the Whale. Along for the ride is skilled spell caster Allegro Grave and recruit Celesta Reynolds.

[Oct 19, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=T5lQgQE3SDc
Description:
These are some radio projects from my final year of college. In Fall 2013 I had a radio production class. These are three projects that I was a part of. The Directv ones went on to be a part of a compilation of tracks that earned our campus a nation radio production award that Spring. These were really fun to record. Funny looking back on these but at this time in my life I was in a miserable place. However, that Spring I would be in a class that would change my life; the "Special Projects Workshop" (in leu of an internship) which led me to filming Send Request in March. Then you had "EGS" and the rest is history. As much as I hated college, there were moments that really changed how I think today.

Description:
Early Sunday morning I had the misfortune of totaling my Dodge Neon from slamming into a deer. All of the transmission fluid drained out and I only was able to drive for about 300 yards before stalling out. Passenger side headlight cracked and had a big dent in the hood. Got word repairs would cost over $3,000, totaling the car. It's a shame, and it happened so fast. Wasn't even 3 miles from home. Gonna miss this car.

PioneersProductions - Extinction LIVE Script Read
[Dec 29, 2015]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y4dqY3WgKLw
Description:
SCRIPT - I removed the link but if anyone would want a digital copy of the script you can message me.

This is something that I've never done before. I thought it would be fun to just sit down, Live on Periscope and record a Live script reading (table read) of one of my videos from start to finish. I picked "Extinction" because it was lengthy, flowed well, and was one of my best performances overall. This was recorded on the morning of December 28, 2015; Live on Periscope. It is all 100% Live with no cutting. The only manipulation was with the Frog and Whale voice overs in postproduction. "Extinction" was a brutal video to film and to do the lines Live seemed like a fun idea because of how extreme the dialogue is. There are some lines that got changed in the moment during filming, or were just completely missed by accident. This table read is purely the script as it was originally written, which will eliminate the improv used in the video. Some lines were originally noticeably different compared to what was filmed on screen. I hope you all have a fabulous New Year's. Cheers!

EGS Wiki - https://the-egs.wikia.com/wiki/The_EGS_Wiki

As of January 12, 2016, "PioneersProductions" is officially being retired. I am no longer associating myself with the name "PioneersProductions", nor do I intend on using this channel as my main channel. From this day forth, I will be associated with "EGS Productions". I have started a brand new channel that will focus only on "EGS" productions. This channel will no longer be in use for content. It will however remain public with the videos staying public. The only content that has been removed/privatized is the "EGS Tapes" and the two scrapped "EGS" episodes (Curtain Call / Welcome to the Squad). "EGS Tapes" will be re-uploaded on the new channel. Before any of you bash me for throwing away a channel that I spent 7 1/2 years on, hear me out. I was going nowhere with this channel. I was being somebody I wasn't for 90% of the endeavor, and was simply bobbing like a cork for the last 2-3 years. All of my old content from 2008 - 2013 was parodying something that other YouTubers have done, with my own touch on it. From 2014 - present day, I have been doing my own original content; the difference is highly noticeable. In order to fulfill what I've set out to do with "EGS", I had to start a brand new channel. I couldn't associate it with the content that has gotten me to where I am today because it is a series that is totally different than what you've seen from me over the years. It is in the best interest of me to make this change. I am forever thankful for all of your support in this long endeavor. I can't force you all to switch over to the new channel, but it doesn't change how much I appreciate all of your help and feedback. Although this channel has reached its end, the future is still wide open. Thank you,

- Andrew Blaze

"PioneersProductions" lasted a total of 2,774 days (June 09, 2008 - January 12, 2016).

The complete documentary from 2008 - 2014. The "PioneersProductions Anthology" is an autobiographical documentary that covers the highs and lows of "PioneersProductions" from 2008 to 2014. The original production was finished only a month before "Extinction" was filmed, and was released in June 2014 for the 6th anniversary of "PioneersProductions". It was re-cut, expanded, and re-released in October 2014, with "Extinction" added to the end of the program; as well as audio tracks from live streams. The original intention of this presentation was to bring all of my history with my channel full circle. I intended to switch to doing gaming content; abandoning my sketch and productions entirely. What ended up happening was "Extinction" led to the start of "EGS", creating the "EGS Prologue" series; and I have since never looked back. The gaming channel was completely scrapped, and I focused all of my time on trying to bring my ideas to life through animation from the start of 2015 to present day.

I don't intend on re-releasing this again due to the fact that the project master was permanently deleted back in 2014; and re-cutting the entire project from start to finish would take months (as this production did). The making of "Amnesia Rape", "The Search For Remember", "Extinction", "Resurrection", "Absolution", and "Welcome to the Squad" ("EGS Prologue Series") are on "PioneersProductions", and differ from the versions in this documentary; and are much more indepth. Another reason why I'll never re-release this is due to the fact that I'm obviously still creating my history. I've held off on releasing this in one mega video because of how huge the file size is. As always, I'm forever thankful for all of the support that you've given me in all of these years. I hope you'll continue to watch my crazy ideas come to life on your YouTube screen. Thank you.

PioneersProductions - Absolution (Behind the Scenes)
[Apr 16, 2016]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=lct4d6zcbsA
Description:
Behind the scenes footage from the making of "Absolution". So much craziness has happened since I finished filming and editing that video that I completely forgot to sift through the outtakes for this and "Resurrection". What ended up happening was I dove into animation not long after this video was released; so nothing but animating was the priority. I shot "Absolution" in a bunch of pieces. It was kind of a "make it up as you go" type of video; although it was scripted. I returned to my roots of just doing something basic and simple for a plot; although the later half got to be pretty abstract. Everything seemed to come together when it needed to most.

Although "Absolution" was the follow-up to "Resurrection", it was originally intended to take place in the afterlife. Everything was going to be green screened. Fortunately I didn't take that path because it wouldn't have turned out good at all. It wasn't only intended to tie in with "Resurrection" but also the scrapped "Figure in Black" series. You can read more facts about production on the "EGS Wiki" page (link is below). "Absolution" was intended to be the PioneersProductions finale. I wanted to branch out and do gaming content instead of film because I thought I'd covered every area of production that I was able to; and felt there was little more I could do. I personally wasn't happy with where I stood in not only my life, but with my YouTube channel. Although there's some comedic moments in these outtakes, you can see and sense the mental exhaustion and depression in this footage. Every failed take was beyond frustrating for each and every video between "Extinction" and "Absolution". Stress was nearing an all-time high in my life at the time, and doing YouTube videos only added to the frustration of trying to make a decent production. "Extinction", "Resurrection", and "Absolution" may have turned out to be some of my best work, but it came with a price. The content continued to grow not only more abstract, but darker. Fortunately you don't see the frustration in any outtake videos. There were videos I tried making just before "Extinction" that I just flat out lost it in from stress. This series ("EGS Prologue Series") was as real as my videos have ever been because the emotions were all authentic and also real. You can tell the difference between just acting and being yourself.

Description:
This was something that I always enjoyed doing. Just doing crazy lip syncing to some of my favorite songs. A good bit of these are drunk compilations; especially the "Bohemian Rhapsody" ones. The "Worthless" one was the first time I ever recorded myself doing something like this; so I was stunned I still had the video. The only downside to 99% of these videos is they were recorded on the built-in camera on my iMac; so the quality is really blurry. The "Somebody to Love" one lagged like crazy because my hard drive was filling up or something haha Adds to the madness I guess. For some odd reason I just laugh my ass off when I listen to Queen drunk. It's eerie how some of these seamlessly match up, even though they were recorded on separate occasions.

PioneersProductions - The Lost Tapes Trailer - PioneersProductions
[May 13, 2016]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mgni1fQgy38
Description:
There was a time before YouTube when I made videos. I've mentioned these countless times over the years. Now, after 14 years, I've managed to transfer my old DV tapes into a digital format. These tapes have hardly ever seen the light of day. There are 12 tapes in total. These consist of me and my ex-friend Matt pretending to make our own legit movies. There were no scripts, no direction, no editing; just us and a camera. Being these were filmed in 2003, uploading videos onto the internet wasn't as mainstream as it is now. I had no idea how to do it. It wasn't until around 2006 that I uploaded my first ever project to the internet (which I think was an NFL picture slideshow). This was before YouTube even existed. It wasn't until 2008 that I learned how to properly transfer video footage onto a computer.

These tapes have sat on a shelf since the day they were filmed; being only viewed by myself, and occasionally Matt. There is still footage that I haven't even seen since it was taped. I figured this would be a nice way of giving you something to watch while I work on the new productions. There's SO MUCH STUFF that I have planned, and it's obviously going to take a while to get it all made. Summer is going to be hectic. There will be a new volume of material from these tapes released every week in June to commemorate 8 years of "PioneersProductions"; what better way than the footage that started it all?

PioneersProductions - Scary Friends (2004) Part 01 (With A Few Words From Me)
[Jun 2, 2016]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8ZjB0h2vTBQ
Description:
To commemorate 8 years of PioneersProductions (June 09, 2008), I decided to transfer all of my old DV tapes to digital. These tapes are what inspired me to hold onto the video camera; and what eventually led to me starting "PioneersProductions". They were all made before YouTube existed, dating back as far as 1999. There were a total of 12 tapes stashed on my shelf; my friend had an additional few but I haven't seen him in over 7 years. A big reason why I'm showing you these all throughout the month of June is to show you where I originally started with making content. I always say that 2008 was when PioneersProductions started; in reality it dates back to 2004. The bulk of the videos that you're going to see are from 2004. As far as quality goes, this is almost exactly how it would look playing on a VHS player. Nothing was altered visually; it's ripped straight from the tape.

PioneersProductions - We Were On Drugs... (2004) - The Lost Tapes
[Jun 5, 2016]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xTrwO5q70z0
Description:
This has got to be one of the funniest videos that I was ever a part of. I don't even remember filming this; and I say "film" because this was back when videos were actually shot on film.

That's one thing I'll never forget from college; "You're not 'filming' anything; you're recording it digitally onto an SD card". Like all of these videos from the lost tapes were, there were no scripts. This was all just us and a camera. That's what makes these videos so golden; there was no direction, just the general idea. This is from "Friends in the Basement 2", which was a series that revolved around us "smoking" cigarettes and drinking "beer". The original "Friends in the Basement" is pretty bad (cringey); although there will be clips from it (as well as all of the other videos we made) on this channel. These videos go on anywhere between 20 minutes to an hour; there's no way any of you would want to sit through all of the camera shaking madness of these tapes, so there will just be stripped down scenes.

Now keep in mind, when you're a kid and filming stuff like this time seems to go faster. Matt obviously gets frustrated hahaha I kept a lot of that scene in though to show how it eventually led to bigger things when I eventually signed up for YouTube; I was REALLY into character.

I answer your questions, as well as give my take on why I hate gaming channels. It was fun to see what was going to be asked. Although I didn't answer all of them, I picked out the essential ones. Thanks for submitting! I love love LOVE responding to questions. It doesn't matter what they're about. Don't ever be afraid to ask me something throughout life. Nothing offends me nowadays. Have a good day.

I just want to take some time to talk about why I don't do what I used to do on this channel. I made a video similar to this earlier, but as always I have a lot on my mind, and something to say. I know these videos run long but I really sincerely enjoy talking to everyone out there who watches me. I feel this is still a way to stay connected, even if you don't see me around here nowadays.

PioneersProductions - Extinction Raw Footage (Torn Tendon + Surgery Images)
[Jul 30, 2016]

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bGOKtWuA7Yw
Description:
July 29, 2014 is a day that I will never forget. This is the raw uncut footage from "Extinction" where I accidentally severely injure myself on camera. It was one of the last shots that I was going to film that evening. My voice is shot, I'm fatigued, I'm sweating, I'm covered in paint blood and stuffing, and I end up stabbing Froggy into the concrete floor with a Swiss-Army Knife which completely lacerates my tendon in half. It was an immediate reaction. I instantly knew that something broke. Just attempting to bend the finger was agonizing. Yet the perfectionist and arrogant part of me only cared about getting the shots filmed hahaha It's quite hilarious.

I was pressed for time which is a major reason why this accident happened. Either way, it wasn't safe haha so who knows, I could've still ended up hurting myself. It will forever go down as one of the strangest ordeals in my life. Trying to explain to surgeons and doctors that I tore my tendon in half by stabbing a toy frog for a psychotic YouTube video generated a lot of various reactions. Throughout my YouTube career I've always had a dark thought in the back of my mind that I would one day film something and severely injure myself by doing something stupid. I've been knocked down by things before or tripped up by objects, but never did I dream I would cut and tear something in my hand like that. It's pretty miraculous that I didn't get hurt sooner; 6 years of doing stupid stuff is being extremely generous from the powers above.

It's hard to describe what the pain felt like. It was as if I badly jammed it midway up my finger and was unable to bend it with a sharp throbbing slashed feeling. If you've cut yourself before on a knife it was that times five. As the weeks went by I was still unable to bend it fully and couldn't even make a fist; the finger just stuck out as if I was drinking tea with my finger raised, but it was still normally straight. There was a bump at the base of the tip that felt like a bone or a rock, and it was extremely uncomfortable, and at times throbbing. On top of all of this, Bruno had to be put to sleep 12 days later. I put up with that pain for 3 full months. At times my finger just got really warm and felt like it was slightly on fire.

In September I finally went to get it looked at and was told that I needed surgery. The shitty thing was they couldn't take X-rays or anything on it. The surgeon wouldn't know the damage until he got in there; so I ended up having to drive for 2 hours to see a specialist and for him to give his advice. There's probably multiple reasons why my finger is permanently stuck bent at an angle nowadays and one of them is because of the amount of time that passed between the laceration and the surgery itself. I cut it on July 29th and didn't have it operated on until Halloween. You might be asking why. Well what happened was I had an opportunity for a full-time job only weeks after cutting my finger. The surgeon said that I could have the surgery in September (which was literally that weekend when he told me) or take the job and wait until around January...I took the job.....What ended up happening was I quit after the first day, went back to my old job for two weeks, and then got the surgery. So too much time had passed; the sooner you get operated on the better.

I got the surgery and was strapped in a splint for what seemed like forever; I think until December. Only my thumb was able to move and bend on my right hand. Every other finger was completely numb and couldn't bend under my own power. It was freaky shit. My ring finger never fully regained its full bending stretch; it stops a few millimeters shy of touching my hand. If you look at the pictures you'll see stitches in my forearm and wrist, not just my finger. My hand itself, my finger, my forearm, and my wrist had a total of around 30 stitches. It was so uncomfortable, and it would occasionally bleed. The shittiest part about the stitches was getting them removed. I remember people saying it's 1, 2, 3. In November a college intern took them out, and it was like pulling teeth; and he ended up missing some of the wire which I dug out over a period of a few weeks. I was really light headed afterwards and almost passed out. It was so weird. I wasn't nervous when they were being pulled out or anything, but something just threw my body for a loop. It was like when you stand up too fast and see black for a few seconds and spots; only my hearing started to go and I literally thought I was going to collapse on the floor. Freaky. I don't know if it was because my body just went into random shock from adjusting from the stitches being plucked or what, but I didn't know what to think.

I eventually underwent a second surgery in April 2015 to remove scar tissue from inside of the incisions. It didn't end up making much of a difference at all and the surgeon virtually gave up on me.

PioneersProductions - Best "PioneersProductions" Soundtracks (2014 - 2015)
[Aug 4, 2016]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MCIZbRDRWm4
Description:
The best soundtracks composed by Andrew Blaze (Randy Stair) during the "EGS Prologue Series" and scrapped episode productions.

Band Camp - https://egsproductions.bandcamp.com/

The "EGS Prologue Series" (now officially the "PioneersProductions Finale Series") was unintentionally made into a series. The videos "Amnesia Rape", "The Search For Remember", "Extinction", "Resurrection", "Absolution", and "Abyss" are all associated with this series ("Welcome to the Squad" and "Curtain Call" are technically scrapped episodes and were intended to be "official" 'EGS' series episodes).

The first originally composed soundtrack was heard in the third episode, "Extinction". The "Extinction" soundtrack was made by pure improv. Tracks were recorded as you hear them and were never fully mastered properly. 95% of the music heard in "Extinction" was all originally composed. "Resurrection" was the fourth episode in the series and was filled entirely with originally composed music from start to finish. It's debatable but I consider it the best besides "Welcome to the Squad"; and was recorded and mixed in a few weeks, just in time for its release before Halloween. "Extinction" was by far the weakest in terms of music, with the tracks having no rhyme or reason to them. "Resurrection" was full of synthesizers; inspired by John Harrison's "Creepshow" soundtrack from the 1980s. Strings, synthesizers, and bass are heard throughout the short film and perfectly sets a Halloween atmosphere, in my opinion. The craziest thing is I recorded both the "Extinction" and "Resurrection" scores with the basic iMac keyboard. No synthesizer keyboards were used; just the typing keyboard that comes with every Apple iMac. The notes correspond with the letters, and lots of double-tracking was done on this album because of the limited range of notes that can be played in terms of the "key" the notes were played in. I think only around 15 - 20 notes could be played for each section of the digital keyboard.

"Absolution" was the fifth episode, and was intended to be the last. Much like "Extinction", the soundtrack was full of improvisation. The "Afterlife" track was literally me just mashing random notes on the keyboard and mixing it all together; and overdubbing a lead instrument. Piano tracks were used more in this one and set a more somber tone. I think it's the most unique sounding album out of the 4 soundtracks featured in this video. "Welcome to the Squad" would become the official sequel to "Absolution" in late 2015. It was meant to be combined with another short film, "Curtain Call", and be a double-feature. "Welcome to the Squad" is arguably the best sounding soundtrack album in terms of fullness. It's more atmospheric and sounds more modern compared to the previous albums. Although it wasn't properly mixed for its release, it still holds up in my mind as the best overall sounding score.

The problem with this soundtrack's mix is the bass. The released version's bass overpowers all of the instruments and is on the verge of distorting the speakers, unless you're listening with headphones. Every soundtrack was mixed with headphones, which isn't the proper way to master music. Nonetheless, the score was better than the video. A big reason why "Welcome to the Squad" sounds so fresh is because of the updated midi instruments. I used an old version (which at the time was the current version) of "Garage Band" for "Extinction" through "Absolution". By the time I was working on "WTTS/Curtain Call", I finally gave in and updated the program. I didn't like it at first which is why I strayed away from it, but in the long run it was worth it. Everything sounded so much fuller. "The EGS Arrive" is my personal favorite on the album; especially because it almost sounds like a track you'd hear in a film. I'll definitely make a video discussing these soundtracks sometime soon because they really are the face of the "Finale Series". I'd discuss more about them in the video description but YouTube has a character limit.

PioneersAnthology - MakeMeBad35 On Deleting His "How To" & "Bitch Repellent" Videos (2014)
[Aug 18, 2016]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NkZBgmfWIK4
Description:
This is something I've had tucked away for 2 1/2 years. Since so much time has passed since Damian and Alicia's breakup I figured I'd post it. I played Xbox with Damian for a few years, and would usually get word about things that happened before it was public on Twitter, YouTube, etc. Damian is a really nice guy off camera, and hearing his frustration about having to remove some of his best work from the internet wasn't easy to hear...I even ended up removing around five to eight gaming compilations that had Alicia in them. I'm not posting this video out of disrespect but rather just for you to hear how we heard it. It's historic in its own right so I figured why not share it. This isn't meant to cast shade towards Alicia or anything; it's just us responding to Damian's situation, although my mic isn't audible since I didn't have a separate mic set up to record my voice. Although we had so many laughs in our Xbox days, there were occasional moments like these that just sort of took the air out of things. Between 2012 and 2014 we'd play Xbox roughly twice a week, so there were a lot of historic conversations that I was involved in related to his YouTube career, although not all were recorded. Some things are better left sealed but I felt like this would help some people better understand what Damian was going through back in early to mid 2014, and the reality of it all; Damian just being real.

I used to have a gaming channel that had clips of all of us gaming but I took it down back in early 2015. However there are some compilations on this channel if you'd ever want to check them out.

Description:
My game suddenly became self-aware and knew I was cheating by using Google. It just randomly glitched out as the $64,000 question appeared, and all of the text turned into Missingno styled text. To make matters even funnier, the "Phone a Friend" didn't even know the answer. I should've known from experience with these older Millionaire games that when the person you call isn't sure, they're usually almost always wrong; but being the audience voted for the same answer I thought it would've been right...of course not hahaha I haven't played this for around 8+ years and I guess it was pissed that I abandoned it for that long. It's "Who Wants To Be A Millionaire 2nd Edition" for PS1, being played on PS2. I tried again and I won the million. XD

PioneersProductions - IT'S BAD - "Curtain Call (That's It)" - The Original Trashed Cut
[Sep 24, 2016]

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=M2ZOlOl7F_0
Description:
It's bad...and I mean...baaaaddddd....If there's anything I've learned with animation it's patience is never easy, you won't be great at it right away, you think your artwork is good but it's really total shit at first, and it will take you months to a year to perfect your own style. I blabber a lot in the opening of this but just wanted to give you some insight on how this video originally was in April 2015. I had no idea it would take me an entire year (around 15-16 months) to perfect my animation style, get an intro sequence animated, and have a style that looked presentable. Believe it or not (whether you're new or old) this is how "EGS" originally started out as; and it's not pretty to look at. I very easily could've dropped the idea altogether and never touched it again; but I was too stubborn to just quit and give up like that. The longer you stick with something the more familiar and fluent you'll be at it. If you want to be a musician don't throw in the towel after a week of sloppy and seemingly wasted time. Stick with it. Keep trying. Animation is a lot different than learning to play a guitar or drive a car, but if you have the passion and the will to work on it, you'll eventually find your way.

Description:
Someone's going to pay and it's not going to be pretty. Rachael Selenski isn't your average high school student. She always isolates herself from her surrounding classmates; analyzing their daily routines and studying how they tick. As her high school years progress she grows more and more distant from reality. Little do the students and teachers of Westborough High realize what is really going on inside of Rachael's mind.

Description:
"Resurrection" will forever be a favorite of mine, although the graphics were cheesy at times. This is the short film without any score. Music is EVERYTHING when it comes to submersion. The entire soundtrack for "Resurrection" was composed by me within 3 weeks. This video was extremely rushed, not only because of the Halloween deadline, but because I had to have hand surgery on Halloween itself. I somehow managed to get everything shot, cut, and musically composed within 3 weeks. I consider it one of my best soundtracks. I'm doing this to show you how weak projects are without any score. I did it for "Absolution" last year, now for Halloween I'll do it for "Resurrection".

It's that time of year again. Thought it'd be fun to revisit my old Christmas videos and react to them. I actually made a Christmas video for this channel every year; started in 2008 and lasted through 2012. After 2012 things changed and the content grew darker. I don't necessarily count "Absolution" (filmed in December 2014; released January 2015) as a Christmas episode, so it wasn't shown in this video. Had a lot of fun doing this so I'll definitely react to more old videos soon. If there's any in particular that you'd want me to react to let me know. =)

Videos Shown (In Order)
- A Whale Christmas (Remake) [2011]
- A PioneersProductions Christmas [2009]
- A Whale Christmas (Original) [2010]
- Crazy Christmas Maniac [2012]
I did a Christmas video in 2008 but the audio is sadly forever lost.

PioneersProductions - The Lost Tapes - Short Film Medley (2004)
[Dec 14, 2016]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=j8oF-9vI3eQ
Description:
"EGS (Ember's Ghost Squad") - http://www.youtube.com/EGSworld

"The Lost Tapes" are a blast from the past...Tapes that were once collecting dust on my shelves are now being released on YouTube for the world to see. These DV tapes contain cringey footage from my years before YouTube. The tapes mostly range from 2004-2005. Some tapes don't display dates so it's impossible to pinpoint the exact years. These are being released not only to show you how I was back when I was 11/12/13, but to show where it all led to. The tapes can range anywhere from 30 seconds to 2 hours. They're all raw and unedited recordings (abridged for YouTube). I doubt I'll ever release all of them in their entirety unless by demand because they go on forever.

Picture yourself just pretending you're making a film, only you're recording 95% of everything that's happening all the time without stopping the camera for 50% of the video. It's a LOT of footage. There were never any scripts, very little direction, and all improvised. Typically what would happen is we'd cut and I or Matt would say "this is where it should go", and we'd just record whatever happened in the moment. We never thought these would ever be seen by anyone but ourselves, so it's pretty surreal knowing the entire world is now able to see this stuff. I haven't spoken to Matt since late 9th grade (early 2008), nor seen him since before graduation (2011). I haven't even been able to find him on any social media, so it bums me out not being able to show him this stuff. I've had so many dreams lately where I'd be hanging out with him...even though I haven't physically seen him in 5 1/2 years - 6 years...I don't miss him much but it triggered the idea to finally try and transfer these old tapes to digital to release to the world. We were best friends from 1st - 9th grade; a long time. However things changed in 9th grade when he got a girlfriend. I was still the baby faced kid whereas he was much more mature than me and hit puberty years before I even sniffed it.

After we went separate ways (which was never officially decided; we literally just stopped talking to each other in early 2008), I started "PioneersProductions", only around 3 months after the fact; and also started to become good friends with James (Freakshow180). Matt connected well with me in our earlier years of life but as things started changing in high school I just didn't fit that social zone he was in anymore. I also felt like he secretly hated me for years and couldn't tell if he purposely tried to hang out with me to be nice. It still sticks with me to this day but I just brush it off since we were really just pre-teens at that time; but being we hung out constantly for 8 1/2 years it'd be VERY hard to believe he faked his way through that for that long. In the end I think it was just a friend zone thing (not "gay" friendship or anything haha what I mean is the friends he hung out with besides me were much more socially outgoing and vocal, whereas I was an isolated kid who only hung out with Matt). So by time we transitioned into high school I probably just wasn't the kind of person he wanted to hang around with anymore. I don't know but I'm glad we took different paths because of where it led me to. I met James in 6th grade "Reading" class but we didn't become good friends until the end of 9th grade (just before me and Matt parted ways).

It might be hard to believe but if you REALLY analyze these tapes it almost seems like we were more than friends XD But in reality I'm not gay, nor do I think he is...but I couldn't tell you that hahaha There's no hidden meaning in any of this, it was really just one of those things where you had a kid who was isolated, quiet, and independent, who found a kid who he just connected and bonded well with. Unfortunately not all friendships last forever. One thing's for sure though, when we got the video camera out we made some pretty unusual and hilarious stuff.

On Monday, March 31, 2014 Send Request took the stage at Luzerne County Community College. I ended up filming them for my graduation project, along with one other band before them. The premise of the show was to interview bands and film them playing their own original music. The show even continued on for like a year after I graduated. Send Request ended up being the second band we filmed. This performance ended up being my final project for college. I remember finishing my college career by fixing subtle mistakes on "My Last Confession".

As for the technical side of things there were 5 cameras in total for the show. There were two main HD cameras, two Go-Pro cameras, and a cell phone-like camera; I think the third HD camera was broken, so it couldn't be used. I filmed the primary shots of Andrew Blank (singer; top right of the screen), Mike Kairewich filmed from the left side of the stage (top left of the screen), Mike Danilowicz used his cell phone-like camera to film the entire stage (bottom left of the screen), and two Go-Pro's recorded the entire right side of the stage [along with guitar and drum perspectives] (bottom right of the screen).

The performance itself wasn't the tightest but it ended up changing my entire direction in life. Keep in mind, I had never seen them or heard their music before, so I had to wing the camera the entire evening by guessing what was coming up in the song they were playing. There's a moment in the first take of "I Quit" where I have the camera on Andrew and quickly pan over to Derek (expecting him to sing) for a cool camera move, but that portion just happened to be a gap in the song. All in all, I had a blast filming and editing this show in college. Thanks SR, I owe you one.

Send Request
- Andrew Blank (Vocals, Guitar)
- Derek Holminski (Backing Vocals, Guitar)
- Aron Wood (Bass)
- Jon Labenski (Drums)

The original recordings from the 2016 animated YouTube series. "EGS Tapes" is a series of audio recordings of squad members lives before they had been recruited. The audio segments have been recorded on cassette tapes in either therapy sessions, by the individual's own will, or by surveillance microphones. These tapes have been a key element in discovering what truly lies on the other side of life. Some tapes may appear to sound vague while others are littered with clues. It is also believed that some tapes may have been recorded postmortem. Volume 01 includes recordings from Andrew Blaze, Rachael Shadows, Mackenzie West, Alex Gebhart, and the two lost boys from Brooker; three bonus tracks are also included. The bonus tracks include two previously released December 2015 and January 2016 Andrew Blaze tapes (originally released on "PioneersProductions"), and the original December 2015 version of Alex Gebhart's "The Breakup".

PioneersAnthology - Ghost School (The Death of My High School) [2011]
[Jan 9, 2017]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7b6m2pkdA-E
Description:
This video still shocks me. Unfortunately the quality is forever stuck this way. I wasn't supposed to be up there but it was the last time I'd ever have a chance to see the place that was my home for 4 years. I miss the shit out of that school to this day. It was demolished in Summer 2011 in favor of a new school. Being the last class to graduate from it was an honor. It was a shithole, but it was OUR shithole. I wish I had footage from inside the facility before graduation but there's hardly anything. It was a really filthy school with long, tight, narrow hallways and bad lighting. I got so many headaches from that place in my freshman and sophomore years. Apparently the construction crew wasn't around on Sundays or something so we went up and explored. It makes me sad watching it nowadays. The school was awesome. I don't know why the video is in 4:3 though, because Flip HDs recorded in 16:9...Maybe I just imported the footage wrong. =/

PioneersAnthology - Graduation Day! (Part 01/02) [Graduating and Reaction] (2011)
[Jan 9, 2017]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bGm3tH4LSEA
Description:
June 03, 2011 was a life changing day. I'll never forget it. Watching this footage makes me almost tear up. As much as I hated most of my class, remembering what it felt like as the sun set that day will never leave me.

PioneersAnthology - Graduation Day! (Part 02/02) [Hypnosis / Lock-In] (2011)
[Jan 9, 2011]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NC4Mt58kHMM
Description:
The post-graduation lock-in. Basically the lock-in is the last time you get to see everyone in your school before you leave...and never come back. They lock you in the school overnight from like 10pm through 6am. It was actually really hard to stay busy and obviously stay awake since the adrenaline rush had long since worn off. You could only venture through one small area of the school (the cafeteria, gym, and the hall outside of the cafeteria). By 2am I was exhausted. I had a blast though. Unfortunately this is the only footage I have from that night (counting the previous part). This was back before I collected hard drives to store and preserve my footage. So the quality is forever grainy and edited. It's a real shame because I only used to use flash drives back then until I started taking my videos more seriously. All of Damian's Mr. Wooden Alligator 1 and 2 collab footage was stored on 8 and 16 GB flash drives (2010 & 2011). It wasn't until around 2013 that I started collecting terabyte drives to store all of my videos on. Nowadays virtually every legit video I make will have raw footage stored on a terabyte drive.

PioneersAnthology - Fears From a Lunatic Outtakes [2013]
[Jan 9, 2017]

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Au-OydZrKgA
Description:
"Fears From a Lunatic" wasn't the greatest video I made. It also suffered because it was made in 2013, a year that completely changed me mentally. This was made in September 2013 so it was at the tail end of a year that plagued me with bad luck and unexpected deaths. I was just out of it..no drive, no motivation, no nothing. So to relieve the stress of filming I wrote something that took place in one spot with little to no camera movement. Little did I know how bad it would hurt my back to lay in that position for an entire hour.

PioneersAnthology - Wipeout While Holding the Camera (2009) [Outtake]
[Jan 16, 2017]
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=c5A1X2Balq4
Description:
I honestly can't remember what video this was from. I thought it'd be cool to ride down my side hill on my bike while holding the camera to get a nice first person dolly shot, but turns out that wasn't the best idea...I fell right on top of the tripod with the camera still rolling. I was waiting for instant pain but turns out the only injury I had was a small cut on my elbow; it could've been so much worse. The tripod broke my fall. I haven't attempted a shot like that since. One thing's for sure, it's pretty hilarious.

PioneersProductions - My Best "Fatass" Moments (On Screen/Using the Camera)
[Apr 10, 2017]
☥ https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=k_XF4Z9ezCw
Description:
Between 2008 and 2012 I was on a stunts channel called "Fatass". The goal was the make content similar to Jackass but on a smaller scale. Things started off small and childish but then gradually became more abstract. Personally I didn't want to risk getting seriously hurt so my bits were usually weaker stuff, like snorting salt, bouncing on trampolines, stuff involving soft powdery snow, etc. However I did capture the majority of what you saw on screen behind the camera, filming it all. Probably my best shots occurred in the "Fatass Movie", which was filmed between Spring and early Summer 2012. Some of you might remember this stuff but chances are no one even knows I was on that channel. The crew consisted of me, my brother, and his friends. In total we ended up making 7 episodes, a couple of shorts, and one "movie". It was a blast. By far the most painful stunt I did was the "Water Balloon Slingshot" for the "Fatass Movie". My left arm joint locked for like 15 seconds after getting hit. Turns out it would be my final stunt for Fatass. We had a great group of friends and it's always great looking back on this stuff.

Check out the "Fatass" channel here - https://www.youtube.com/user/TheFatassTVCrew.

Description:
Welcome to a new kind of tension....This will be my final production and contribution to this world...I'll miss all of you....I seriously apologize for the audio glitches in the intro. I didn't have the time to correct the issue...Fricken Apple's updated libraries in Final Cut caused that crap. It's never noticeable until after it's exported. It's so stupid....I hope I was able to make a difference for you....Now it's time for me to return to my true home...the "EGS"....I documented my final 6 months on Earth in the "Andrew Blaze Suicide Tapes" folder, as well as a private journal. There's all kinds of videos, soundtracks, and pictures to download in the main folder. Enjoy!
